NEWS OF MILLERSBURG

The commencement exercises of the Millersburg Female College were ushered in Friday afternoon with a brilliant lawn reception given by the Senior Class of the M. M. I. from 4 to 6 on the campus. The receiving line was stationed on the front veranda, with Col. and Mrs. Best at the head, followed by the Senior Class. The grounds were beautiful, the shrubbery in full foliage, and most of the flower beds in full bloom. A large number of friends of the institution were present, including the faculty and student body of the M. F. C. Sandwiches and frappe were served. The time was spent most pleasantly by all present. The buildings were open for inspection, and notwithstanding that it was somewhat cool, the novelty of the situation thrilled every one. The commencement exercises proper were opened at 9 p. m., on Friday, at the M. F. C. auditorium with Miss Baskin's class in expression. This work was far better done than it has been since Miss King occupied the chair of expression, and we regret that we can not make public mention of all the different parts of it. Miss Mary Bruce Redd, in "Welcoming the New Minister's Wife," in her work goes above the character of an amateur, and her work was indeed realistic. Miss Margaret Peterson, in story-telling with child-like simplicity in "Helen's Babies," made one fancy that they could see the child as she told the story. Miss Elizabeth Isham, in "The Winning of Katherine," made one forget they were listening to a reader from the stage, as she carried you through the various stages of her story. The musical program of the evening was equally as good, and the solo of Miss Mildred Bruce, who was quite a favorite in song here, captivated all present, and at the end of the entertainment, after numerous requests she consented to sing the solo again, which was "Who Knows?" The commencement exercises of the M. F. C. were continued on Saturday evening when Miss Wisham's pupils in voice put on the beautiful operetta, "The Feast of the Little Lanterns." The operetta was in two acts, and the stage settings were indeed beautiful. The costumes and all pertaining thereto were entirely in keeping. The characters had been well drilled, and were thoroughly up in their work. The four principal characters in the entertainment were Miss Andrews, a Chinese Heiress, Miss Lucy Jones, a Japanese Juggler Maid, Miss Genevieve Wells, Maid to Princess, Miss Mildred Bruce, Governess to Princess, Misses Andrews, Andrews, Bruce and Wells have appeared before the footlights here upon several occasions. The story of the piece was in thorough keeping with the scenes of the kind represented, and the weird chant-like music blended beautifully with its dramatic action. This entertainment was unlike any that we have had in the past, being a departure from the dramatic entertainment with which we are so familiar, was by some perhaps not as well understood as it should have been. However, it was good, and all who are familiar with opera or operetta work pronounced it first-class.

Misses Wisham and Baskin have both accomplished a great work here with their pupils during the season.

At 10:45 a. m., Sunday the annual baccalaureate sermon was preached at the Methodist church by Dr. John M. Crowe, of Pulaski, Va. Accompanying the sermon was a good musical program, which was well carried out. Dr. Crowe is a profound thinker, a philosophical, logical speaker. He took as the basis of his theme "What Lack I Yet?", and laid down his lines along the line of character-building. His philosophical reasoning along the line that a life is no stronger than its weakest point, was indeed timely. His beautiful tribute to mother was one of the strong points of his discourse. A large crowd was present and Dr. Crowe commanded rapt attention during the entire time. More than once his discourse was so appealing as to appeal to the inward emotions of heart and soul. On the whole it was one of the strongest discourses ever delivered here, and only equaled by Dr. Wilkerson.

Following is a partial list of the commencement guests: Misses Beulah Peck, of Flemings-burg, Tommie Sweeney, of Chaplitz, Kittie Ranson, of Moreland, Dr. John M. Crowe, of Pulaski, Va., Jane Brunen, of Cincinnati, O., Miss Martha McCue, of Cincinnati, O., Mrs. Andrews, of Flemingsburg, Mrs. Skinner, Flemingsburg, Mrs. Wood, Frankfort, Miss Elizabeth Woluck, Pleasantville; Rev. W. D. Welborn, of Washington, with Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Pruitt; Misses Sadie May and Jennie Reese, of Helena, with Miss Alberta Moffett; Mr. Roy Patterson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hill, with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Patterson; Miss Marritt, of Millbrook, New York, with Miss Julia Miller; Misses Elizabeth Marr and Rebecca Redmon, of Paris, with Miss Lavinia Layson; Mrs. Henry Morris, of Dover, and Miss Dorothy Pollock, of Hamilton College, Lexington, with Mrs. S. E. Bruce and daughter, Miss Mildred; Mr. James Bedford, of Lexington, Frank Collier and family, of Paris, with Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Collier; Misses Margaret and Edith Shive, of Paris, with Mrs. A. S. Venable; Mr. Herman Huffman and family, of Covington, with Dr. and Mrs. W. V. Huffman; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McConnell and two daughters, and Mrs. J. M. Thompson, of Mt. Olivet, with Mr. and Mrs. A. McConnell; Misses Nettie Lou Banks and Helen Bush, of Winchester, with Mrs. Raymond Taylor; Mrs. J. H. Sillman, of Harrodsburg, and Miss Margaret Rutter, of Cincinnati, with Mrs. J. D. Redd and daughter, Miss Nola; Miss Virginia Crutcher, of Paris, with Miss Edwina Ammerman; Messrs. Dike and Nathan Young, of Carlisle, with Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Collier.

The following were among the visitors on Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Long, of Paris, with Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Collier; Mrs. Caywood and daughter, of Paris, with Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Daily; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hinton, of Paris, with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Peed.

Mr. Walter Hawkins, of Transylvania University, Lexington, was at home from Saturday until Monday.

Mrs. John Marr and children are spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Letton, at Carlisle.

Mrs. E. W. Ammerman and daughter, returned Friday after a two weeks' visit to son and brother, Mr. Walter Ammerman, at St. Louis, Mo.

Little Miss Mary Louise Collier entertained about forty of her little friends Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4, the occasion being her eleventh birthday. Ice cream and cakes were served.

Mrs. J. H. Spillman, of Harrodsburg, delivered the annual missionary address to the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the M. F. C., Sunday at 8 p. m., this being a part of the commencement exercises. A large audience was present and the musical program accompanied the work, was, as it always is, exceedingly good.

Mrs. Spillman did not come as a stranger, having visited this place before in her missionary work. Her subject was well handled and her points well taken. She is one of the few who can handle the missionary subject without tiring the audience. She is always a welcome visitor here. The following is a continued list of commencement guests: Katherine Wills, of Irvine, with her mother, Mrs. Louie Clarks; Mrs. Turner Perry, of Owensville, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McClintock; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patrick, of Paintsville; Mr. J. W. Sewell, of Jackson; Mr. J. E. Hurst, of Flemingsburg, at Stirman House; Miss Louise Best, of Maysville; Mrs. Orie Lebus, of Cynthia, with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Best.

Class day exercises of the M. F. C. as a part of the commencement exercises were held Monday at 10 a. m., in the M. F. C. Auditorium. The class was greeted with a good audience, largely made up of ladies and children. It was one of the best exercises ever held in the institution, abounding in more originality than any of its predecessors since Class Day was inaugurated there. "The President's Proclamation," by Miss Ruth Norris, and "My Class Legend," by Miss Margaret Peterson, "The Declaration of Independence," by Christine Peterson, and the class song, "The Class' Hypnotist," by Mildred Bruce, and the "Class Scrap Bag," by Martha Smith, and "The Last Will and Testament," by Miss McMillan, deserve public mention. Miss Mattie Burford, in the presentation of the class gift, a handsome picture to adorn the new Society Hall of the annex to be built this summer, came as a surprise to all present, and received rounds of applause. They were accepted by Dr. Fisher in an appropriate address. One of the most pleasant features of the occasion was the class trial by the Juniors, in which the Seniors were placed on trial on the charge of not being eligible to graduation.

MR. WILSON MAKES VISIT TO THE PENSACOLA TOWNSITE

The Pensacola, Okla., Anchor, says: "Not Woodrow Wilson, but Mr. Jas. S. Wilson, of Paris, Ky., owner of the Pensacola town site. Mr. Wilson arrived Tuesday morning to look after business matters and to get a line on crop conditions generally, and to say that he was highly elated over the outlook would be putting it rather mild.

"While here Mr. Wilson perfected arrangements for having the Grand Hotel moved from its present location to the lots opposite and east of Pittsman's store. This will give the hotel a more central location and be a great convenience to the traveling public."

PARIS CHAPTER U. D. C. HAS A CHILDREN'S DAY.

The Richard Hawes Chapter, U. D. C., met Friday afternoon in the Confederate room in the court house. In the absence of the president, Mrs. William G. Talbott, the meeting was presided over by Mrs. John Connell, vice president.

This being Children's Day, after her routine business, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Russell Mann, who has charge of the Hamilton Guards, the children's organization. The members responded to roll call with appropriate quotations, and then followed an entertaining program.

Miss Louise Connell read an excellent paper on Father Ryan, the distinguished poet-priest. A recitation on "Robert E. Lee" was well given by Miss Alma Louise Goldstein. This was on the origin of memorial day, which is observed on different days in the Southern States, June 3, the birthday of Jefferson Davis, being the day observed in Kentucky. Miss Eleanor Cecil Swango recited a little story, followed by Miss Josephine Ewalt.

A visitor at the meeting was Mr. James McDonald, a Confederate veteran, who is the only surviving member of the Hamilton Guards, in Co. G., under Capt. E. F. Spears, and in view of the fact that Mr. McDonald will leave in a few days for the West, at the suggestion of Mrs. C. C. Leer, the children gave him a salute with Confederate flags. Mr. McDonald acknowledged the compliment in a few appropriate remarks.

Mrs. Mary Cecil Cantrill, of Georgetown, was a guest of the chapter, and gave a talk relating to a new device for the State flag which has been proposed.

During the meeting plans were discussed for the observance of Memorial Day. After the program a social hour was enjoyed, during which ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. C. C. Leer and Miss Carol Leer, assisted by Miss Ruth Monson.
